The report of the Legislative Visiting Committee made cuts in the estimates of managers of state institutions of funds they asked for 1915 and 1916 expenses. The appropriation asked by the state experiment station at Mountain Grove, $81,810, is the only one out of 28 that was untouched by the committee.

The University estimates asked for $1,500,000. This sum was reduced some $400,000 and stands at $1,123,700. No money was allowed for an exposition and administration building for the state fair at Sedalia and the committee recommended $114,780 as the total appropriation for the fair.

The $142,875 asked by Rolla was cut to $137,557. The managements of all the institutions are highly commended for efficiency and satisfactory results by the committee. Senator Anderson Craig of Nodaway County, Representative Rich R. Correll of Randolph and J. H. Somerville of Mercer.

Senator Harris from Boone County had the honor yesterday of introducing the first resolution in the General Assembly. It resubmits the road district amendment providing that road districts, whether general or special, may levy special taxes not to exceed 65 cents on the $100 valuation of property for road purposes.

A bill introduced by Senator Greene of Kansas City asks for $50,000 for state and for teachers' training courses in Kansas City, St. Joseph and St. Louis. Governor Major's bill creating a state purchasing board for all state institutions, including the University, was introduced by Senator Anderson Craig.

Another bill of interest to the University is that introduced by Senator W. H. Phelps, requiring all money paid out of the revenue and collateral inheritance funds of the state to be paid on warrant of the state auditor.

Senator Mitchell introduced a bill creating a State Text Book Commission to provide uniform system of school books throughout the state. The commission would consist of five men appointed by the governor.

In the House, Representative John C. Robertson of St. Louis introduced a bill requiring the state to establish State Normal schools at St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph. Teachers' schools in these cities now are municipally maintained.

SEARCHING FOR HER INDIAN HUSBAND

Mrs. William L. Chambers Hasn't Heard From Him for Three Months.

MARRIED LAST JUNE

Met Tribesman While Both Worked at Shoe Factory—She Is 17.

William L. Chambers, an Indian, who until a few months ago was a resident of this city, has disappeared. Chambers' wife, who lives on Fay street, said yesterday that her husband had been gone about three months and that she had not heard from him during this time.

Mrs. Chambers said that about three months ago she received a letter from her husband. He was at that time in Claremore, Ok. In his letter, according to his wife, he asked her to come to Claremore and said that he would meet her in Kansas City. Since that time he has not been heard of.

Chambers is a Cherokee Indian. He came here about two years ago from Muskogee, Ok., and went to work in the Hamilton-Brown shoe factory. Mrs. Chambers was an employee of the factory at that time and it was here that the two became acquainted. They have been married since last June.

"I don't know why my husband has left me," said Mrs. Chambers yesterday. "We have not had a cross word since we were married."

About a month ago Mrs. Chambers said she wrote to the Union Agency in Muskogee in an effort to find her husband. This agency, through information obtained from payments, leases or deeds, is able to trace a missing Indian from any of the tribes anywhere in the United States. It will make an effort to find Chambers although as yet it has had no trace of him. Chambers is 25 years old.

Mrs. Chambers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Phillips, who live on Highland avenue. She is 17 years old.
